Abstract: This article briefly talks about the decisions and decrees of our presidency on the development of reading culture. The role of the book in human life, its educational significance is explained in detail.

Key words: Telephone, book, Meucci, XXI century, information-communication, Mark Twain, Uzbekistan.

At the same time, the President of our country, Shavkat Miromonovich, while mastering the latest achievements in the field of information and communication, it is necessary to pay special attention to increasing the interest of young people in reading books, making them friends with books. For this, it is important to place the best examples of our national literature and world literature on social networks and pay special attention to their wide promotion.

In fact, the development of the reading culture of young people today has become the main task of the entire society. Because the book is the only source that raises a person from the earth to the sky, introduces him to the world, and educates him as a perfect person. But nowadays the culture of reading is significantly decreasing. What(s) is/are causing this? Why do some people consider those who read books to be behind the times? Why? Why is that? I think this question bothers all of us. "Nothing can take the place of a book." But this sentence has become more "lame" by the 21st century. To put it bluntly, people have replaced the book with something. That is, in 1871, they are replacing the book with the phone called "talking telegraph", invented by MEUCCI, an Italian living in England.

The touch screen mobile gadget that we use in our daily life was invented in 2007. Do you know when the book was published? The book, which is considered the most important discovery in the history of human development, appeared in Mesopotamia in the 3rd millennium BC. Well, now think how much bigger and better a book is than a phone. The telephone was invented more than a century and a half ago, and the book was invented several thousand years ago. That's probably why the difference between a book and a phone is so big.

The book has no bad sides at all, it is useful in every way. The good points of the phone are that it makes our work easier in every way, but there are several thousand negative points. The light emitted from the mobile phone has a serious effect on human brain cells and causes various diseases. A person using a mobile phone is not aware of its bad effects at first, but it starts showing its bad effects without you realizing it. Unfortunately, one out of 20 people in the world becomes a victim of mobile radiation every 10 seconds. You see, my dears, how harmful the telephone is. Even the telephone puts an end to many people's lives. Books are the complete opposite of this. According to scientists' research, the dead nerve cells of a person who reads a book for 7 minutes are regenerated. So, reading books is useful both mentally and physically.

The book shows all of us a bright path and shapes our minds. They will help us choose the only bright path in the future. It helps us to build our great future. But even though we all know these things well, for some reason we don't read books. Do you know how many scientists, thinkers, poets, writers came out of our country? Amir Timur, Alisher Navoi, Babur, Al-Farghani, Imam Bukhari, Arastu, Rumi, Gulhani and hundreds of other great people have grown up. Our great-grandfathers conquered such great heights by reading a lot of books and made the name of our country known to the world. We should be proud to be their descendants and be their followers.

Listen to Muhammad Jabalrudi's words about the book: "My dear. There is no dearer and more pleasant interlocutor for a person than a book. The book has no equal in its eloquence, maturity, grace, and is a companion free from hypocrisy. In times of loneliness and sadness, munis is a blessing. There is no discord or grudge. He is so sympathetic that there are no lies or mistakes in his words. A conversation is not enough for a person. And he does not squeeze his heart. He is so kind that people do not gossip behind his back. From his conversation, you will receive such beneficial benefits that you cannot find from a person. On the contrary, a person is harmed by the conversation of many people. In the work of a friend like a book, all knowledge is embodied, it keeps people aware of the past and the future. That's why they say, "The book is the fortress of the mind." This description is given to the books in a wonderful, concise and skillful manner. I think the heart of a person who reads these sentences will be opened. His love for books increases. He realizes how useful it is, his mind deepens. Because the world view of a person who reads a book is enriched, his conversational culture increases, he understands how to behave and what tone to speak in public places.

We can know how correct our opinions are based on the orders and decisions of President Shavkat Mirziyoyev. Our President Muntaram is creating great opportunities for young people, who are the future of our country, and is paying special attention to the development of their reading culture. Their decree "On the creation of a commission for the development of the system of printing and distribution of book products and the promotion of book reading and reading culture" (January 12, 2017) is a step towards a bright path for us. is a sign that we put.

"A good friend, a clear conscience and, of course, good books - nothing else is needed for an ideal life!" It was not for nothing that I gave an example from the words of the famous American scientist Mark Twain. Pay close attention to the words. It seems very simple at first glance. But from a scientific point of view, it has a great meaning. How do you think the concepts of friend, conscience and book can be related to each other? There is a popular saying: "Do you want to know who you will be in 5 years?" Then take care of your close friend." Of course, a person needs a good friend, a clear conscience, and, in Twain's words, good books in order to live life as in a pamphlet.

Some people say that they want to read a book, but something prevents them. I think this situation has been observed in the life of all people. Including in my life. I would like to give you a piece of advice based on my own life. Choose such a person in your life and try to surpass him. I'll stop until you outrun him. I do the same.

You know, there is an educated person named Muhammadali Eshankulov, who has achieved many achievements in his life, he gets up every morning and reads 300-400 pages of books. I also try to read every day. I definitely read a few pages during the day, even if not in the morning. But I still have a long way to reach this person. One of the words of this person was a great motivation for me. "If you want to surpass me, read a book, read a lot of books, there is no other way to surpass me." That's why I just take a step forward. The book is a happy advisor for me, a source of wisdom and knowledge, a weapon of thought, the key to all knowledge. That's why those who have acquired knowledge will never get tired, I will never go back!
